Lima – Huancayo: The World's Second Highest Train Ride

Peru EXperience
Unique journeys - Unforgettable memories

Go on a marvelous train ride from Lima to Huancayo, and stay 2 nights in the charming highland city. This tour takes you to a part of Peru that is little known to tourist and is definitely off the beaten path. The train only runs twice a month on specific dates and takes you through the mountain pass of the Andes Mountain Range reaching a thrilling 16,689 feet above sea level (5,056 meters). You'll arrive to Huancayo refreshed by the gorgeous scenery and ready to enjoy more of the beauty of the Andes. Here you'll spend two nights where you are at leisure to explore on your own and get to know this lovely city.

Day 1 Saturday 26 May 2012: Lima – Huancayo

You train leaves from the station at 7:00am (you should be there 30 minutes before departure). The train takes you through 12 hours of gorgeous landscapes changing ever so often to give you a glimpse into the rich diversity that Peru has to offer. You'll get views of the Andes that are truly breathtaking and top out at 16,689 feet (5,056m) above sea level, making this train ride the second highest in the world. Upon your arrival to Huancayo you will be picked up from the train station and escorted to your hotel.

Overnight at Tuki Llajta Lodge

Tuki Llajta is a Hotel with architecture adapted to the environment. It was built with local materials and details that define the true quality of life, simple privileges linked to the slow passage of time and clean air that offers our highlands. Located in a special place on the top of a hill, the 18 rooms have a stunning view of the Mantaro Valley. The rooms have a rustic style, wooden ceilings and tile, veneers and stone walls that enhance the beauty of the landscape. Tuki Llajta Lodge has 8 suites, 5 junior suites and 2 Family Bungalows. Suites and family bungalows have a fireplace, lounge and terrace. You will be staying in a junior suite.

Day 2 Sunday 27 May 2012: Huancayo

Today is yours completely to do as you please. Huancayo is a small town with a lot of culture to offer. We suggest visiting the main plaza or if you are more interested in archaeology there are a few sets of ruins to check out.

The town has many parks that feature cultural icons in unique ways. Also, if you happen to be there on a Sunday the city has a very unique market this day that is a must see.
